

Your reservation contains information on you and the recipient, this is also known as data.

We will NEVER at any time share information with any third party that includes financials or contact details, including email, postal addresses or phone numbers (unless expressly directed and authorised by you).

If at any time you wish to NOT have any of your information shared with any third party please advise us at GDPR@viennawoodshotel.com

As your reservation confirms you have legitimate business interest with us, we may contact you with marketing promotion and hotel information within 12 months after your last engagement with the hotel. If contact with the hotel occurs, you will be provided with an option to 'unsubscribe' or 'opt out' via a provided link. In this case you will not receive any further communication from the hotel unless you engage with us again after the opt out and again based on a legitimate business interest.

Any further queries you have on this can be directed to GDPR@viennawoodshotel.com
